

Week Three Lockdown 2.0

Tuftop Sales Soar!

Dear Customer

I write in the midst of lockdown 2.0 with a current update on our operations here at Eddingtons HQ.

Our Tuftop manufacturing plant is now operational and fully integrated into the business at the repurposed Mills building next door to our main warehouse. Production is at full stretch as our toughened worktop protectors seem “all the rage” at the moment, valued by consumers for their easy to clean, hygienic and heat repellent properties. Their delightful designs are a sure winner!

Our offices remain open and our logistics team are shipping orders out as fast as you can send them in to us! We've seen many customers adapt to the second lockdown with creative click and collect opportunities and others using the time to prepare and refine ranges as well as simply stocking up for the impending Christmas rush. Do contact us if we can support you with spreadsheets of product information, ranges and order history. We can also provide picture quotes or arrange new range walk-throughs for 2021.

Our sales team have moved to a flexi-furlough arrangement and are all champing at the bit to get out to see you all as soon as it is appropriate. In the meantime, do please contact us to arrange Zoom calls/WhatsApp's or FaceTime meetings to discuss products, ranges or opportunities.

We'll aim to step up our email communications over the coming weeks to keep you up to date with news, promotional opportunities and special offers.

Keep safe and well
